The total camping package

Since the early 1990s, a team of passionate, skilled tradespeople has been manufacturing high-quality custom-designed camper trailers for the Complete Campsite under the guidance of experienced campers Grant and Jodie Joyce.

These days, the range of products offered by Complete Campsite ensures that wherever you are in the great outdoors of our wide brown land, you'll have anything you want and everything you need.

From entry-level family trailers to purpose-built offroad battlers, a fully self-contained camper trailer is exactly what Complete Campsite believes you should have for your journey. And you can request any added extra or individual requirement, as befits your taste and budget.

Complete Campsite camper trailers display two key attributes of a practical, solid-performing design: they are both compact and lightweight, which makes towing a cinch and setting up speedy. But functional design doesn't have to forgo creature comforts. The welcome inclusion of a supple queen sized bed means you're assured of a restful night's sleep.

On display at this year's NSW Supershow will be the full range of camper trailers, comprising the Adventurer (available for on-road and offroad), Nomad (available for on-road, offroad and extreme 4x4 use), Deluxe (on-road, offroad and extreme 4x4) and the Uluru (designed only for offroad and extreme 4x4).

Camper trailers are perfect for fresh-air family getaways and the Complete Campsite's Nomad is no exception. The side-fold trailer is built on a Duragal galvanised chassis with galvanised sheet walls and floor. It rides on responsive leaf-spring suspension and has such an expansive tent space you'll be hard pressed to feel like you're actually camping.

Heavy duty vinyl protects the tent while it's folded on top of the trailer, and keeps everything squeaky clean so when you settle in for the night, there's no sand in the bedding.

But there's no need to take Complete Campsite at face value, even though there's no doubt you'll be impressed by an inspection. The company's try-before-you-buy hire service means that you can be totally sure of your purchase well before you make it. If you haven't experienced camping with all the conveniences of home, this is an ideal way to understand what all the fuss is about.
